

Avoid costly mistakes before they happen.

Enter RvR TaxPilot, your on-call tax director - fractional time, full attention.

THE PROBLEM

Startups don't need full-time tax teams - but they do need tax brains.

From structuring your business to staying on the right side of the taxman, early decisions can make or break your future. Most founders aren't tax experts, but there are some critical tax decisions that can make or break your long-term internationalisation strategy.

Enter RvR TaxPilot - a fractional tax director for start-ups and scale-ups.

WHAT WE OFFER

RvR TaxPilot - Fractional Tax Director Service

Tailored tax oversight for early-stage or scaling businesses.

- ✓ Access to senior tax experts without hiring a full-time director
- ✓ Weekly engagement (e.g. 5 hours) to suit your needs and stage of growth, with a roll-forward of unutilised time.
- ✓ Two service levels:
Advisory: strategic oversight, risk flagging, international expansion pointers
Hands-on: help with audits, filings, structuring, and more

Why It Matters

Tax traps we guide you to avoid:

Registering the wrong entity in the wrong place

Expanding internationally without tax planning

Overlooking VAT, digital services taxes, or withholding issues

Mismanaging IP or shareholding structures

You get startup-smart tax strategy that grows with you, without unnecessary complexity or cost.

Why RvR?

- ✓ Proven track record in international tax and structuring
- ✓ Extensive experience with early-stage and scaling businesses
- ✓ Offices in South Africa, Mauritius and Ireland
- ✓ A whole team of brains with only one point of contact
